

Quality choice

WHEN it comes to renewable energy and a clean, green way to save on running costs and reduce carbon footprints, solar power is the "smart" choice.

A Smartt Group solar power system will help combat price increases and futureproof homes and hip pockets.

Smartt Solar Systems is Clean Energy Council accredited and licensed by the Building Services Authority, and was a Platinum Dealer Award Winner for 2009, 2010, and 2011.

Providing a minimum payment of 44 cents per kWh for surplus energy supplied to the power grid, Queensland's Solar Bonus Scheme rewards home and business owners when they generate more energy than they use.

"We provide solar electricity grid-connect systems for homes and businesses across southeast Queensland," managing director John Kachel said.

"Smartt Solar uses top quality components, including only Australian-made solar panels, and our solar modules are accompanied by SMA German inverters which have been utilised throughout the globe for more than 30 years.

"We pride ourselves on service delivery and can help clients work out what incentives and rebates they are entitled to and even help with the application process.

Smartt Solar Systems also offers free on site consultations and assessments."
